

L. & N. REFUSES TO SHIP LIQUOR

Info Georgia and Alabama, Which Recently Voted Prohibition.

CASE NOW BEFORE FEDERAL COURT WILL DECIDE.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 31.—Announcement is made by the Louisville & Nashville railroad that it will no longer receive shipments of liquor into Georgia or Alabama, States which have recently passed prohibition acts for their entire territory. The announcement was received with surprise, and it is believed will be followed by action of other roads. If so, those States will become hermetically sealed, and will be really "dry" spots for the first time in the history of the fight for prohibition.

A high official of the road gave the reasons for the action, by explaining that the right of the road to ship into prohibited territory, even though the traffic be interstate commerce, has been called in question by a suit filed in the Federal Court of Indiana affecting the practice as carried on between Indiana points and points in Kentucky, which have voted against the sale of liquor.

"The principle having been questioned," said he, "it was referred to the legal department, which advised that we discontinue shipments into the two Southern States, which have recently gone dry, until the Federal Court passes upon the question, which will probably be in a few days. Of course, the traffic is unquestionably interstate commerce," he continued, "but it is held that the State law is supreme in this case. At all events the road did not care to risk being indicted by the Georgia and Alabama courts for each separate shipment into the territory, so orders were issued to the freight agents not to accept the business."

Under recent decisions of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, railroads are prohibited from carrying liquor shipments within the State to counties which have gone dry. This decision was evaded easily by the Louisville wholesale liquor dealers who moved branches across to New Albany, and shipped into the dry territory from there, thus bringing the interstate question up, and causing a case to be put before the Federal Court in Indiana.

Colored Man Killed.

John Sharbin a colored man was found Saturday morning on the Illinois Central track near Nortonville in a mangled condition. It was thought he had attempted to board a train and was thrown on the track and dragged some distance and killed. Sharbin's home was in Morton's Gap but he was employed at the Daniel Boone Mine.

Pistol Duel on Streets of Mayfield.

James Dulaney and Riley Allen fought a revolver duel on Broadway at Mayfield, Ky., Sunday and Allen was shot four times through the upper portion of his body. Dulaney was not wounded, but two passers-by, John Cochran, a traveling salesman, and Lucian Smith, a lawyer, were slightly wounded. Allen and Dulaney are two of the most prominent men in Mayfield, and the affair has caused much excitement. Allen's wounds may be serious. Dulaney was arrested. The trouble arose over some previous misunderstanding of a personal nature.

TELEPHONES WILL REMAIN.

Council Rescind Order That 'Phones Pay License.

FRANCHISE FOR SERVICE NOW UNDER CONSIDERATION.

At a meeting of the Madisonville City council on Monday night the telephone muss was discussed and the Council adopted a resolution rescinding its action which had ordered that the Cumberland Telephone Co., pay a license tax of $5000, change its scale of salaries to employees, etc., or get out of town.

Attorney Jerrold Johnson, for the City, held that the ordinance in question had never been in effect, that it had not been legally enacted by the council and could not be enforced. The telephone company was represented by Mr. Katterjohn, of Evansville, who said that this company would be compelled to take out its telephones and leave unless the council rescinded its action as expressed in the resolution under discussion; that his company could not comply with its terms. The resolution was rescinded by a vote of the council and the telephone service will be continued. The city authorities will take up the matter of franchise to be granted to the Cumberland or some other telephone company. At present no telephone company owns a franchise in Madisonville.

Hopkinsville Asylum Inspected.

The Charitable Institution Committee of the Senate and House spent Saturday at Hopkinsville to inspect the Western Asylum.

The committee was accompanied by Dr. Milton Board, of the State Board of control, the Sergeant at arms and other officers of the Legislature and several newspaper correspondents. The Committee found everything in apple pie order, in better condition than either of the others.

Col. Scott said: "In efficiency of management, in the matter of economy and certainly as regards the mental state of the patients, the Hopkinsville asylum is unequaled. That nearly all of these insane people seem happy and tranquil is remarkable. There are fewer violent inmates than in any other institution in Kentucky."

Effort is being made to secure an increased per capita appropriation for the maintenance of lunatics. The per capita at present is $150 a year and $175 at least, or $200 if practicable, is desired. The advanced cost of food and clothing, the need of modern therapeutic equipment, the employment of more skilled alienists and a more competent grade of attendants are argued in support of the movement. It is said to be probable that the joint committee will make recommendation along this line. Members of the committee are of the opinion that the Legislature will change the name of the institution from asylum to hospital.

'Phones Ordered Out at Paducah.

All the instruments of the East Tennessee Telephone Co., are ordered removed from the city offices and police and fire department in Paducah, and it is said the fiscal court will order them out of the county office at its next session. The trouble is over an old grant permitting the company to use the street for poles and wires and their refusal to accept a new franchise.

BETTER LAY UP VALUE IN OUR CHILDREN THAN FOR THEM

Kentucky Spends $8.50 per Child For Education. California and Massachusetts $42 per Child.

THE MONEY AND EFFORT SPENT FOR EDUCATION IS ONE OF THE BEST INVESTMENTS.

Could public attention be concentrated upon the relative position Kentucky holds among her sister states regarding her public schools, and upon the reason why she so stands, says G. M. Money, Supt. of schools for Shelby county. I believe that the patriotism of Kentuckians would be so aroused that they would soon banish forever this stinging disgrace of illiteracy which hangs as a blighting cloud over our future prosperity and glory.

By indulging in a little comparison we find the following facts: Kentucky spends about 24 million dollars on her schools annually; Illinois, 21 millions; Massachusetts, 16 1/2 millions; Indiana, Minnesota, Missouri and California each from 8 to 10 millions.

This is equal to about $8.50 per child in Kentucky, based upon the average attendance; about $42 per child in California and Massachusetts; and in the other states named, from $21 to $30 per child.

The average child in Kentucky gets about 70 days of schooling per year; while the other states give from 100 days in some to 146 days in Massachusetts.

What are the results obtained? In Kentucky 14.3 per cent of her native born white male adults are illiterates, while in the other states named it ranges from 4.4 per cent down to 1 per cent for Minnesota and 9 per cent for Massachusetts.

A further analysis of this comparison gives what I think is the secret of these results and conditions, and that is, their dependence, in a large measure, upon that local interest that generally comes with local aid.

Local means in Kentucky furnishes only 32 per cent of our school money, in Massachusetts it furnishes 96 per cent, in Illinois and Missouri 87 per cent, while in the other states named it furnishes from 53 to 70 per cent.

But, some say, these other states are richer and better able to educate their children thus. In answer, I will say that further comparison shows that for every $100 of property value in Kentucky her schools get 18 cents, while in Massachusetts her schools get 30 cents, and in the other states they get from 20 to 25 cents. So, relatively, we are not up with the procession.

These states seem to have discovered that education pays in dollars and cents; that it is far better to lay up in their sons and daughters than for them; and if they have not learned that one day's schooling has a value of $10, they have learned that the time and money put into the educated brains of a boy is equal to an invested capital of ten or fifteen thousand dollars.

Dr. Hill, Secretary of the Massachusetts State Board of Education, says: "The wage earning power of the people of Massachusetts is 275 million dollars a year over the average wage-earning power of an equal number of people elsewhere in the United States."

For this added income the state spent 13 or 14 million dollars a year on her schools, when these wage-earners were in school and for every dollar so spent twenty is now the yearly return.

FOR MINERS PROTECTION

Coal Operators of Western Kentucky Devising Measures for Safety.

RECORD OF FATAL ACCIDENTS BEST FOR THE ST. BERNARD.

(Louisville Times, Feb. 4.—) Notwithstanding the fact that statistics go to the show that coal miners are already much better safeguarded in the following of their occupation in Kentucky than in any other state in the union, still further steps are to be taken to insure them against accident in the mines.

This was determined at a meeting of the Western Kentucky Coal Mine Operators' association held at the Old Inn last night, when all of the more prominent members were present, and the coming joint conference with their employees in regard to a new wage scale will be discussed.

According to the figures of the bureau of commerce and labor, it is shown that within the past ten years the ratio of men killed to the number of tons of coal produced has been, for the country at large, one in 225,000, while in Kentucky the proportion has been one in 400,000.

The Central Coal & Iron Company has been, perhaps, the greatest sufferer among the companies in Kentucky, having had one man killed for every 500,000 tons produced, while the St.

Bernard Mining Company has escaped with one man killed for every 1,100,000 tons.

The possibility of the introduction of a bill for a law in the present session of the legislature providing for the greater protection of the men in the mines was discussed, and it was decided that in such an event the association should ask for a hearing before the legislature on the law.

Among the operators who attended the meeting were John B. Atkinson, Earlinton; Hywel Davies, Louisville; I. P. Barnard, Louisville; W. D. McElhenny and John Hobson, Central City; D. Stewart Miller, Owensboro; R. Morgan, Deane; and W. J. Lamb, Muhlenburg.

HOBOS CARS.

Once a Month on All Trains, Says Howe, and There'll be No More Bumper Riding.

St. Louis, Mo., January 30.—James Rades Howe, of the Brotherhood Welfare Association, himself known as the millionaire hobo, is evolving a plan for the transportation of his unemployed followers to fields of industry, which he will soon present to the trunk line railroads of the country. Howe proposes to guarantee the railroad company accepting his proposition an immunity from hobo if the company will agree to attach a special "hobo" box car on one of its regular freight trains once a month. By this plan hobos will travel only on these special "excursion" days, and the railroad company is pledged the support. Howe adds his association that no hobos will be found riding the bumpers on that road.

SOME MORE DISGRACE FOR KENTUCKY

Honor of Kentucky Dragged in The Mire by Night Riders.

BEAT A WOMAN THIS TIME, DESTROY $30,000 PROPERTY.

Salem, Ky., Feb. 4.—This morning at 1 o'clock 200 masked and armed night riders, coming from the direction of Eddyville, entered the little town of Dycusburg, on the Cumberland river, about five miles below here, and applying the torch set fire to the tobacco factory and warehouse of Henry Bennett and the distillery owned by Bennett Bros., and destroyed them. While part of the band was turning the buildings and their contents the remainder went to the homes of William Groves, foreman of the factory, and Henry Bennett, a partner in the firm, and started to shoot through the building.

Groves, alarmed for the safety of his family, came to the front door and was seized by the band, who took him out and tied him to a tree where they beat him so severely that he was hardly able to walk after being released.

Bennett was also bound and taken into the street in front of his home. There the night riders started to beat him, telling him they would not let him go until he yelled enough. He stood the whipping as long as he could, and on being told that unless he yelled they would beat him to death he called out. His wife by this time made her appearance and attempted to rescue him, but the outlaws grabbed her and proceeded to beat her almost as severely as they had done her husband. All of the victims, through painfully injured, will recover. The loss by fire is estimated at about $30,000, partly covered by insurance.

Bennett's warehouse, which was formerly an association house, had lately become independent, and Bennett had received frequent warning that he would be severely dealt with unless he came into the association again.

Owing to the fact that all the night riders were heavily masked there was no way to identify them, but it is known that they came from the direction of Eddyville and Kuttawa, and it is supposed they were Lyon and Trigg county men.

2,000 Men Are Idle in City of Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 3.—At a meeting of the unemployed of this city, resolutions were passed asking the city, county and state to undertake improvements at once in order to give the idle work. The speakers at the meeting asserted that there are 2,000 unemployed in this city.

JESSE PHILLIPS FOR DELEGATE

Wants to go to the Democratic National Convention

PROSPECTS SEEM GOOD FOR HIM TO WIN THE HONOR.

Jesse Phillips, cashier of the Earlinton Bank and attorney at law, one of the Democratic party leaders of Earlinton, is a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Denver, Colo., this year. It is not known what are his chances of success in the district but he has some good backing in his party in the county and his friends here are wishing for him that he will win. Mr. Phillips served one term as Magistrate, having been elected from the Earlinton magisterial district as the democratic nominee without opposition. It was a tribute to Mr. Phillips' personal character and popularity that, in this Republican district, the Republican leaders offered no candidate for magistrate and gave him a unanimous election. Mr. Phillips is prominent in the community as a Sunday School worker and a leader in the Knights of Pythias and Masonic lodges, and would make a most creditable representative of his party in the national convention.

THE BEE respectfully suggests that, since the Democrats of Hopkins county have steadily refused to permit Earlinton Democrats to achieve county office, they cannot lose anything by being magnanimous in the disposition of honorary prizes like this.

Whole Crop Ruined.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Feb. 3.—Night riders tore down a crop of tobacco belonging to James McRae, near Roaring Springs, last night and tramped on it until it was unfit for use. It was hanging in a barn for drying. McRae was a tenant on J. D. Coleman's farm.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Miss Ethel Shanks a Popular Madisonville Girl.

Miss Ethel Shanks, of Madisonville, shot herself through the heart with a pistol at her home in Madisonville Thursday night about 9:30 o'clock. She was alone in her room when the deed was committed and had secured her brother Gardner's pistol and placing it against her breast fired the shot that ended her young life instantly.

Miss Shanks was a favorite with her many friends and a musician of ability. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shanks, a sister, and brother Gardner.

The funeral services were held at the family residence by her pastor, Rev. A. D. Litchfield, and the burial was at Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Earlington Wins Basket Ball Game.

One of the most exciting games of basket ball of the season was played at the rink Saturday night between the home team and Madisonville, resulting in a score for Earlinton by a score of 7 to 6. This is the first victory on Madisonville for the local team and they are justly proud of it as Madisonville has one of the strongest teams in the State. The fine playing of Long and Fugate, of Earlinton, were special feature in the game. While all the home boys played a very good game.

Telephone and Telegraph Poles.

Recent estimates give 800,000 miles of telephone and telegraph pole line in the United States. At an average of 40 poles to the mile there are 32,000,000 in use, and assuming that the life of a pole is 12 years, there are needed each year more than 2,666,666 poles. Woodcraft.

SMALLPOX AT KOBE.

New Cases Increase More Than One Hundred Daily.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 4.—The steamer Empress of India brought news that the smallpox epidemic at Kobe is increasing alarmingly, hospitals are overcrowded and stretcher bearers patrol the streets. New cases exceed 100 daily and since the outbreak at the end of December there have been over 2,000 cases. A special meeting of the Kobe municipal council authorized special expenditure of $135,000 to defray expenses of an urgent campaign against the disease and a special corps of police, accompanied by doctors, were making house-to-house searches. A number of old women professing to cure smallpox by incantation and charms have been arrested. The death rate exceeds 3.7 of the city's population.

Neighborhood Favorite.

Mrs. E. D. Charles, of Harbor, Maine, speaking of Electric Bitters, says: "It is a favorite here with us." It deserves to be a favorite everywhere. It gives quick relief in dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney derangement, malnutrition, nervousness, weakness and general debility. Its action on the blood, as a thorough purifier makes it especially useful as a spring medicine. This grand alterative tonic is sold under guarantee at all leading druggists. 50c.

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE.

Is when business is dull. The successful business man is he who at all times succeeds in reaching the public.

The way to do this is by advertising in the home paper. The only way to make money is to keep things moving and this can only be done by making the public realize that you have something for sale at prices that will bring the money from the hiding place. A store which carries the same stock from one end of the week to the other, is not a profitable investment. No man or woman will allow bargains to pass unnoticed. Bargains will at all times win the cash and the only way to accomplish this is to let the public know by advertising.

The business man who fails to advertise these days is the man who complains of dull times.

PUBLISHER REFUSES TO BE INTIMIDATED.

The Providence Enterprise refuses to be bluffed by cowardly, anonymous letters recently received by that paper. That paper declares its continued advocacy of low and order in an editorial as follows:

"The Enterprise has been the recipient of two communications in the past two weeks from parties who failed to sign their names, in which we are taken to task for the stand we have taken in regard to the miner's strike. The Enterprise has taken no stand in the matter further than to advise the observance of the law and the strict enforcement of the same. These expressions were inspired by the lawless conditions that existed here during the strike of 1901. If the miners' organization is in favor of peaceful methods and respectful of the laws of the land it can find no fault with any utterance that has been made through these columns. If on the other hand it is opposed to law and order and wants to sow the seed of anarchy, we plead guilty to the charge of taking a stand against it. These anonymous letter writers also tell us that the paper is a 'dead one,' that we will lose 'three fifths of our subscribers,' and so forth. Meanwhile the Enterprise is still doing business at the same old stand and will continue to print the news without fear or favor. Now is the time to subscribe."

ATTACKED FOR MAKING TRIP.

Professor Milukoff is Made Butt of Abusive Language in Duma.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 5.—The conservatives opened an attack upon Professor Paul Milukoff in the duma yesterday because of his American trip. But the design was frustrated by the over-vivulence of the spokesman, M. Pariskievich, who couched the attack in such abusive phrases as to entail his exclusion for 15 sessions, the maximum penalty that the duma can impose.

M. Pariskievich called Milukoff "a gollron and traitor, in whose face I would willingly spit."

A loud and prolonged uproar ensued and M. Pariskievich, as he rebuked the tribune turned toward M. Milukoff and said:

"You scoundrel, you can challenge me. On the president demanding an apology he repeated the abusive words, whereupon his exclusion from the duma was voted."

CONDENSED STATE NEWS ITEMS.

Gov. Willson Will Occupy Old Mansion.

The Governor has made arrangements to have all his household belongings shipped to Frankfort, and will occupy the old Executive Mansion. He says, even if the Legislature should provide money for a new mansion, it cannot be completed before fall, and therefore, he has elected to go ahead and make his home in the old one. Gov. Willson is much improved in health and will speak before the Lincoln Club in New York Feb. 14th.

PREPARE THE MIXTURE YOURSELF AS ADVISED.

Receipt is Easily Prepared at Small Cost, and Many Swear by it.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; compound Kargon, one ounce Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple, harmless ingredients, can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggists.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen to clogged and inactive kidneys overcoming backache, bladder weakness and urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night curing even the worst form of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

The Scranton (Pa.) Times was first to print this remarkable prescription, in October, of 1906, since when all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

Jail for Ice Barons.

Toledo, O., Feb. 5.—Roland Beard and Compton Leman of the Hylgela Ice Co. and Joseph Miller, manager of the Toledo Ice and Coal Co., members of prominent families, were sentenced to six months in the county jail and to pay costs of prosecution for conspiracy in restraint of trade. These men were found guilty last July and at that time Judge Kinkade sentenced each of them to six months in the workhouse and $2,500 fine.

Crew Mutinies; Captain Ends Life. Mobile, Ala., Feb. 5.—Capt. Smith, master of the British steamer Ashfield, clearing this port Dec. 19 last for Nips, Cuba, committed suicide by drinking poison in his stateroom following a mutiny of the crew while on the high seas.

Fall from Platform Fatal.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Feb. 5.—H. L. Willson, 50 years old, foreman for Arkansas Cotton Oil Co., died from injuries received in falling from a platform at the plant.

Boulder Kills Miner.

Aurora, Mo., Feb. 5.—James Poston, a young miner, was instantly killed yesterday in the Coleman mine by a huge boulder falling on him. He leaves a wife.

Former N. D. Governor Dead.

Devils Lake, N. D., Feb. 5.—E. S. D. Shortridge, former governor of North Dakota, died here Tuesday at the age of 78.

The pension bill as reported to the House, carries $150,805,000.

LAW FOR THE RICH AND THE POOR.

In one of the cell houses of the Ohio penitentiary is a section called "Bankers' Row." There are incarcerated many men of, formerly reputation and high social standing, serving sentence for violating the banking laws or proving false to financial trusts. The presence of these men in this prison is standing denial of the assertion that in this country there is one law for the rich and another for the poor.

Indeed, it is probable that throughout the United States today men of large means and influence suffer the penalties of misdeeds by legal process more uniformly than the poorer criminals do. It must be admitted that justice makes mistakes in America as everywhere else; and the penalties which men pay for their crimes often seem to be ill-fitting, when individual case are considered.

But there is nothing in the general rule to justify the assertion that there is one law for the rich and another for the poor. We have not yet fallen to that low estate, and it is to be hoped that we may never descend to it.—Toledo Citizen.

CAPTAINS OF INDUSTRY.

The prejudice that has been aroused against the men who have written their names largest upon the geography of their country by railway construction, or whose genius has built up such corporate organization, as exist in steel, in oil, in the telegraph and in other lines of industry; the prejudice that swept over the West in the days of Populism, and that now seems so far to dictate the policies of both the great political parties that their old-time controversies are forgotten and they are merged in attacks upon two false assumptions; first, that the men of great affairs are lacking in industry, and second, that the men of small affairs are over supplied with it. I shall not say that almost every instance of great success in this country is an example of a combination, in the men who have accomplished it, of scrupulous honesty, great frugality of personal expenditure during the year of struggle, and unbounded industry.—E. W. Seils, President American Association of Public Accounts.

To The People of Earlington.

The play "A Woman's Honor" which was given at the Temple Theater Tuesday night was not advertised as being given under the auspices of the Tribe of Ben-Hur. Those of us who served in the last home talent given by this order, under direction of Dr. C. B. Johnson, haven't even received thanks for what we did, and we wish to explain to those who might be led to believe, by the write up in Sunlams Hustler that this was advertised as under their auspices, is a mistaken idea. We also wish to thank the gentleman who was so kind as to help us advertise through this medium, as we feel that we overlooked this important feature.

Even From the Mountains

Ballard's Snow Liniment is praised for the good it does. A sure cure for Rheumatism and all pains. Wright W. Loving, Grand Junction, Colo., writes: "I used Ballard's Snow Liniment, last winter, for Rheumatism and can recommend it as the best liniment on the market. I thought at the time I was taken down with this trouble, that it would be a week before I could get about, but on applying your Liniment several times during the night, was about in 48 hours and well in three days."

Misfortune.

A man is up against tough luck if he marries a woman who knows that she knows more than he does.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks, dizziness or fainting before her eyes, has growing distress or heavy feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without blood, is suffering from a weak and disordered system that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine exists that such a long and numerous record of cures in women as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a direct, rapid, and powerful effect upon the system. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will cure prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and is held confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (100 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

CONGRESSIONAL

The following resolution of sympathy for the Poles in Prussia was offered in the house Monday by Mr. Bates of Pennsylvania: "Resolved, by the house of representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled, that, recognizing the constant allegiance of the Poles in America to the government of their adoption, we therefore extend our sympathy and good wishes to the Poles in Prussia in their efforts to maintain their property rights in that kingdom."

The senate passed a bill to apply the provisions of the act pensioning survivors of the Indian wars of 1832 to 1843 to survivors of the Indian wars that occurred in Utah, Colorado, Minnesota and Idaho down to and including 1867. Senator Smoot stated that 700 veterans of these wars in Utah would be affected by the bill.

Senator Culberson introduced a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate if any national banks outside New York complained by telegrams or letters to the treasury department, the secretary of the treasury, the treasurer of the United States or the comptroller of the currency between Oct. 1, 1907, and Nov. 15, 1907, of the refusal of national banks of New York City to pay in cash New York exchange or to respond to calls for reserves and, if so, the secretary is directed to send them copies of such telegrams and letters. The consideration of the resolution was postponed.

A bill was introduced by Senator Clapp to set apart for drainage purposes all funds arising from the sale of government lands in the states not included in the irrigation act and to authorize the secretary of the interior to loan these funds to states, counties and corporations organized under state laws for the reclamation of swamp lands. The money advanced is to be returned to the drainage fund in ten installments so that no one project will have the use of any part of the fund longer than ten years.

A bill designed to take the place of the employers' liability act recently declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States was introduced in the house Monday by Mr. Sabath of Illinois.

A rearrangement of the stars on the flag of the United States is proposed in a bill introduced Monday by Representative Ansberry of Ohio. The bill provides for the amendment of sections 1791 and 1792 of the revised statutes so that the arrangement of the stars shall be "in five arcs in combination, the centers of the arcs to be the apex of a regular pentagon." The stars of the new states shall be so placed as to extend the arcs and shall be given position on the flags on the Fourth of July, following admission.

Three of the giants of the house of representatives had their innings Monday. Technically, the Indian appropriation bill was under discussion, but legislation was relegated to the background, while national politics occupied the stage. Before the political question cropped out, the house, with next to the largest attendance of the session present, with but one dissenting voice, passed a general widows' pension bill, granting a flat pension of $12 a month to the widows of all honorably discharged soldiers of the United States who have not heretofore received the benefits of the pension law and an increase of $4 a month for those who have under the act of June 27, 1890. The law expressly waives the limitation of property holdings. The bill involves the expenditure of more than $12,000,000 annually.

Sleeping Powders Cause Death.

New York, Feb. 3.—A handsome woman of perhaps 37 years, supposed to be Almyra Wilcox, who conducted a millinery establishment in Milwaukee, Sunday was found dead in her room at the hotel Chelsea, where she registered last Monday. Death had occurred during the night and powders discovered in the room led the coroner to believe that an over-portion of some narcotic had proven fatal. This view was concurred in by a physician who had treated the woman for insomnia. Letters written by her told of her sleepless nights.

New Turn in Diamond Swindle.

Paris, Feb. 3.—Henri Lemoine, who is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses from Sir Julius Charles Werber of the De Beers Mining Co., in an alleged diamond swindle, in upholding his innocence before the examining magistrate Saturday, swore that the diamonds exhibited by Werber as having been sold to him were substitutes and not those that Lemoine had manufactured. Lemoine announced that he would prosecute Werber in the English courts for swindling.

Fleet Arrives Today.

Punta Arenas, Strait of Magellan, Feb. 1.—A wireless message has been received here that the American battleship fleet, which passed Point Dungeness and entered the Strait of Magellan at 2 o'clock, Friday afternoon, will anchor for the night in Possession bay and arrive at Punta Arenas at noon today.

Tourist Hotel Burned.

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 1.—The Hamilton tourist hotel at White Springs, Fla., was burned last night, with several cottages. Guests barely escaped with their lives. Loss estimated at $100,000.

PRONOUNCED HIS CASE INCURABLE

Whole Body Raw with Eczema—Life was Intolerable—Was Even Incased in Plaster—Discharged from Hospitals as Hopeless.

SUFFERED 14 YEARS CURED BY CUTICURA

"From the age of three months until fifteen years old, my son Owen's life was made intolerable by eczema in its worst form. He was all right until a red rash broke out on his forehead, but we were not alarmed at first. Very soon, however, the rash began to spread over his head and shoulders, and it caused him great discomfort. I took him to a doctor and tried half a dozen other treatments, all with the same result: no improvement at all. The disease gradually spread until nearly every part of his body was quite raw. We had to strap him down in bed, for he used to tear himself dreadfully in his sleep. The agony he went through is quite beyond words. No one thought we would rear him. The regimental doctor, a very clever man, pronounced the case hopeless; at least, he said the only hope was that he might, if he lived long enough, outgrow it to some extent. We had him in hospitals four times and he was pronounced one of the worst cases, if not the worst, ever admitted. From each he was discharged as incurable; in fact he got worse under the successive treatments. At one hospital they incised him in plaster, and this seemed to aggravate the condition terribly. He looked so badly that no one liked to go near him and his life was a burden to him. We kept trying remedy after remedy, but we had got almost past hoping for a cure. Six months ago we purchased a set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent Pills and persevered with them. The result was truly marvelous and to-day he is perfectly cured, his skin not having a blemish on it anywhere. Mrs. Lily Hedge, 51 Vaughan Road, Colindale Avenue, London, N.W., England, Jan. 12, 1907."

Dainty
Undermuslin

A WHIRLWIND OF WHITEWEAR.

White Fabrics

Out they will flutter--Clouds of Dainty Undermuslins, White Fabrics, Laces and Embroideries and Staples---and all Marked at Enticing Prices. The One Great Event of the Season.

Now comes a long anticipated event--our Annual White Sale. Ready for a period of underpricing of lingerie, staples, fabrics, in fact everything white is involved in this sale. How the bargain winds will blow in the departments where white goods are sold. How the showy clouds of white merchandise will disappear--melting like the snow (which the outburst in whiteness) under a July sun.

We bought widely for this even--and well. Elaborate, Frenchy Undermuslins whose prices have usually been almost prohibitive--were offered us by scared, panic-stricken manufacturers at half prices. And in other lines of goods--fabrics, garments, laces, etc.--bought at even greater price concessions.

Put two and two together and the importance of this sale is evident. Beautiful undermuslins and other white wear--which ordinarily few can afford, are on sale here at prices to accommodate every purse.

While our stocks are the largest we ever assembled for a White Sale--so unusual are the values that many of the choicest may not last that event through. For that reason--come early.

THE SALE BEGINS WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 5TH, 1908.

Locomotive Blasts.

All through passenger trains are now taking water at the new water tank. This makes the passengers walk a block further than before.

Thos. Walsh, Master Mechanic of the Henderson and St. Louis Division of the L. & N., was in the city last week inspecting the mechanical department.

W. F. Sheridan, Inspector of Transportation for the L. & N., was in the city last week. The Colonel was former Master of Trains of this division and counts his friends by the score.

Business on the Henderson Division, which has been very dull for the past month, is rapidly improving, the yard being full of cars Tuesday.

Robt. Fenwick left Monday for Howell, where he has accepted a position.

Engineer Satterfield, who was injured some time ago in the wreck at No. 9 tippie, has resumed work on 52 and 53.

Bub McGrath night yard clerk and the best that ever checked a track made a trip to Madisonville Tuesday.

Mr. Sam Ingram came on one of the through runs is laying of attending court in Madisonville.

Mr. Charlie Blackwell, who last fall was seriously hurt while switching cars in the Earlinton yard, is now able to be out with the aid of crutches.

Mr. Cam L. Ashby the accommodating depot agent has been very busy this week moving his household goods to the house lately occupied by Lawson Miles.

Mr. R. Edwin Brooks, who only a short time ago was promoted to Chief Dispatcher is making good with both the men and official. All trains are getting over the road on schedule time. Ed is the youngest chief ever on the L. & N. and has a future in the R. R. world.

There are with in a radius of 200 yards 8 different places where the motive power of the L. & N. R. R. may secure water. They having 3 large tanks and 5 cranes. Earlinton is better supplied with water than any small town in this corner of the state. The town has just received 2000 feet of new hose and with the supply on hand fire can be reached any place in the city.

Marshall Hall, who for some time was an employee of the L. & N. at this place and whose home is near White Plains, died at his home Thursday. Mr. Hall had been sick only a few days and his death was quite a shock to his many friends here.

John Simons, one of the mechanics in the employ of the L. & N., had the misfortune to receive a painful accident to his right hand last week while packing a train, one of the engines. He will soon be able to go to work.

Gripe is sweeping the country. Stay with Preventive, before it gets deeply seated. To check early colds with these Little Candy Cough Cure Tablets is surely sensible and safe. Preventives contain no Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh or sickening. Eucalyptus would never appear if early colds were promptly broken. Also good for feverish children. Large box, 48 tablets, 25 cents. Post paid boxes 5 cents. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated drug department.

Railroad Helps Holy Land. As a result of the building of the Haffa-Derail railroad through Galilee, Haffa is steadily growing in wealth and population. Much of the grain from the Hauran, formerly carried by camels to Acco, is now brought to Haffa by train.

Don't Put Off. Tomorrow what you can do today. If you are suffering from a torpid liver, or constipation, don't wait until tomorrow to get help.

Buy a bottle of Laxative and get it working right. Prompt relief of health saves many sick lives. Mrs. Ida Freshant, Point, La., writes: "I used Laxative in my life for six years, and find it does a charm to drive out the poison."

BIG ST. LOUIS BLAZE

STAUDTE & RUECKELDT BAR AND STORE FIXTURE PLANT BURNS.

LOSS IS ESTIMATED AT $57,000

Engineer of No. 5 Company Hurt by Flying Casting—Men Escape Falling Wall.

St. Louis, Feb. 5.—The three-story plant of the Staudte & Rueckoldt Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of bar and store fixtures, at Soudard and De Kalb streets, was destroyed by fire which started in the basement at 6:10 o'clock Tuesday night and spread through the building. The damage is estimated at $57,000, covered by insurance. One fireman was slightly injured. The steel made fire-fighting extra hazardous.

When the fire department arrived the flames had spread to the second and third floors, and it was feared that a lumber yard adjoining the plant would be destroyed. The firemen set to work immediately to prevent the spread of the fire.

Firemen in Danger. The highly inflammable contents of the building fed the flames so that it was impossible to check them, and the firemen were content to prevent the spread.

As floor after floor fell, showers of sparks were thrown high into the air and fell upon adjoining lumber yard and tenement houses. The rain had thoroughly saturated the roofs and lumber piles, aiding greatly in the work of preventing the spread of the flames.

The lumber yard of the Staudte & Rueckoldt Co. just south of the factory was threatened, and a stream of water was kept playing on the lumber nearest the factory until the fire had eaten out the interior of the structure.

Adjoining the factory on the east and not more than ten feet from the burning building is the yard of the Little Lumber Co. Piles in this yard caught fire often, and at times it appeared the firemen would not be able to save it. The damage, however, will be less than $100.

North and northeast of the burned building is the yard of the Charles F. Luehrmann Lumber Co. West of the factory is a row of tenement houses. No damage was done to either.

Charles Rueckoldt, vice president of the company, estimated the loss on the stock and machinery at $50,000 and on the building at $7,000.

While Patrick F. McCarty, engineer of No. 5 Engine Co., was adjusting the hose to a fire plug a casting flew up and struck him in the side. He was removed to the city hospital in an ambulance, where it was found his injuries were serious.

The cause of the fire is not known.

SEVEN FIREMEN INJURED.

Fell With Third Floor of Burning Building in New York.

New York, Feb. 5.—Caught between collapsing floors, seven firemen were injured last night while fighting a fire which destroyed a five-story structure occupied by dry goods firms at 43 Worth street, in the heart of the wholesale district. Fireman Frank E. Glanston is missing and is believed to be in the ruins. The monetary loss is estimated at $200,000.

The firemen fought the flames in the bitter cold, which froze the water in the standpipes and made the pressure inadequate to confine the fire to the third floor, where it started. The injured were found lying beneath the ruins in pools of fast-freezing water. They had fallen from the third floor when it collapsed.

TWO FIRES IN BERLIN, N. H.

Fearing Entire Business Section Would Burn, Help is Summoned.

Berlin, N. H., Feb. 5.—Two fires in the business section of this town last night and early today caused an aggregate loss estimated at approximately $400,000. The Green block, a business and tenement building, and the Berlin National bank were destroyed by the first fire. While this was still burning, another fire started a few blocks away and burned six wooden buildings on Main street. Fearing that the entire business section would be swept away, the firemen summoned help from Portland and Lewiston, Me. At 1:45 this morning both fires were believed to be under control.

STRUCK BY BIG BLIZZARD

NORTH CENTRAL STATES SWEEPED BY SNOW STORM.

TWENTY-FOUR INJURED IN CRASH

Train Collided with Motor Car, Bruising and Cutting Passengers, Nona Fatally.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 1.—The snow storm which began at an early hour Friday morning had last night developed into a blizzard, the first of the winter.

The snow, which had been falling all day, is still coming down and strong north wind was drifting at Hadley. The mercury had been steadily dropping until at 8 o'clock it registered between 7 and 8 above zero in Omaha and was still receding.

Probably not more than three inches of snow has fallen, but it is so badly drifted as to interfere considerably with railroad and street car operations. Sioux City reports a temperature of 5 above zero at 8 o'clock and a thirty-mile wind from the north. Aside from the hardship it will cause among the poor and the suffering of stock, the snow is welcomed.

Blinding Snow Causes Collision.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—A snow storm was raging last night over the Lake Michigan and Lake Superior regions and in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas. The snowfall was accompanied by a high northwest wind and reached its greatest severity in Northern Iowa and the Dakotas where low temperatures were registered. The wind reached a velocity of thirty miles an hour in Chicago, driving the heavy wet snow before it with tremendous force, and seriously interfering with street traffic. In the outlying districts traversed by surface lines of street cars much difficulty was encountered in keeping the tracks open. In the height of the storm a train on the Aurora, Elgin & Chicago electric line collided with a motor car, the accident being due to the blinding snow, which obscured the view of the motorman. Twenty-four persons were more or less seriously injured, though none was fatally hurt. The injuries were chiefly bruises and cuts from flying glass.

Cold in Kansas.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 1.—Kansas yesterday experienced the coldest weather of the winter. Snow and sleet storms prevailed generally, accompanied by a decided fall in temperature.

Missouri's First Blizzard.

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 1.—Northwest Missouri is experiencing the first blizzard of the season. Snow began to fall Friday evening, accompanied by a strong northwest wind. The thermometer registered 10 above zero and is rapidly falling.

Tornado Damages Property.

Brookhaven, Miss., Feb. 1.—A tornado is reported to have done damage over a territory of considerable extent north of here yesterday. Wire communications to the north has been lost completely.

Six Killed by Cyclone.

Wesson, Miss., Feb. 1.—Six persons were killed outright by a cyclone, which laid waste a strip of farming country three-quarters of a mile wide and several miles long, just north of here Friday.

Train Escaped Disaster.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 4.—The Pennsylvania passenger train from Shenandoah to Pottsville escaped a frightful accident Monday afternoon when the engine left the rails on the top of the broad Mountain near the Frazerville station and plunged over an almost perpendicular embankment to a road 100 feet below. The coupling between the engine and the first car broke and the coaches remained on the track. Engineer U. G. Siegfried of Pottsville was crushed to death, but his fireman, R. R. Schock, escaped by jumping.

Business Section of Leigon Burned.

Oskaloosa, Ia., Jan. 30.—The business section of Leigon, northwest of Oskaloosa, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. The loss is $30,000. There was no fire protection.

SENATOR BRYAN SWORN IN Florida Man Youngest in Upper House of Congress.

Washington.—William James Bryan, the new senator from Florida, was sworn in the other day, and is now the "baby" of the senate. He was appointed by the governor of his state to succeed the late Senator Mallory.

Senator Bryan is only 32 years of age, barely old enough to be a senator. He is tall, slender and youthful in appearance, manner and speech. His forehead is high and his head is crowned by deep-black, heavy hair.

worn in southern style, parted away over on the right and combed down on the other side in long waves.

Besides being the "baby" the chances are that the new Florida senator will become known as the handsomest man in the United States senate. He says himself that he wants to become the best senator his state has ever had, and that he also intends, if possible, to be the oldest man in the senate some day.

Senator Bryan practiced law with his brother in Jacksonville, and took a very active part in Democratic politics. In 1902 he was elected county attorney and during his term he closed all the gambling houses in his district, gave the people dry Sundays, prosecuted the beef and the ice trusts and became popular not by closing his eyes to infractions of the law, but by prosecuting every offender against whom he could obtain evidence.

In 1904, when Napoleon B. Broward was running for governor of Florida, Bryan managed his campaign so successfully that his man was elected by a large majority. The governor showed his appreciation of the young attorney's services by appointing him senator to succeed the late Stephen R. Mallory, the term expiring March 4, 1909.

The young senator prior to Bryan was Henry B. who entered the house at the age of 29 years, 10 months and 17 days. He is no relation to the Nebraska celebrity.

WILL SUCCEED JOHN MITCHELL.

T. L. Lewis Elected President of the United Mine Workers.

Wheeling, W. Va.—Unofficial returns of the vote in a majority of the districts of the United Mine Workers of America on a successor to John Mitchell as president show the election of T. L. Lewis of Bridgeport, O., by many thousands. Results will not be announced till the convention meets in Indianapolis January 21, but a detailed vote from enough of the locals in every district has been counted to show that Lewis has carried every district with the possible exception of two in the anthracite field.

T. L. LEWIS

A detailed vote from 42 out of 320 locals in Illinois shows Lewis has 6,000 to 3,000 for Wilson, and the same ratio is shown in the Indiana vote. Lewis will carry the Pittsburgh district by 2,000 votes and his six to one in West Virginia. In Ohio he will get 20 to his opponent's one.

More Criticism.

President G. Stanley Hall is quoted as saying that songs of the "polly-wolly-doodle" order sung by college glee clubs composed of stalwart barbarians in evening dress often suggest downright infantism. Poor college youths, they do have a hard time trying to fit their vocations, and their vocations to the taste of everyone.

Tennessee Miners Strike. Tracy City, Tenn., Feb. 5.—One hundred and fifty miners employed by the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Co. at Tracy City went out on strike yesterday. Friday the company discharged eight or ten men who had been attempting to organize a union and this was the cause of the strike after the company had refused to reinstate the discharged men.

A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. It's a pity that sick ones continue to drug the Stomach or Stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves, not the organs themselves, need this help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative has and is promptly helping so many sick ones. It goes direct to the cause of these diseases. Caused by Germs That Attack The Skin Externally.

When the skin becomes infected with germs or parasites the effect is shown in the form of pimples, Rashes, Blotches, Eruptions, "the Itch," or some other type of skin disease. These germs or parasites that attack the skin externally, burrow down deep into the delicate tissues and fibres of the skin and produce irritation, inflammation and fiery itching and burning sensations. Don't be fooled in thinking that these skin troubles come from blood impurities and don't ruin your stomach with purges and blood remedies. "Cure the skin, through the skin." As the very healthiest blood is often found in the strongest men affected with skin troubles. "A. J. M." Prescription is the only absolute cure on the market today. THE END OF THE CHAPTER

By B. FLETCHER ROBINSON

(Copyright.)

The major regarded the curate with a bewildered expression. "Most astonishing thing," he spluttered. "Don't think I have ever been more astonished in my life."

"In our quiet village—" began the curate. "A warrant out for the arrest of the occupier of the manor," interrupted the major, "a man who was received by—ah—the best families in the county."

"The scandal," wailed the ecclesiastic.

"Inspector Hartley is now at the house," said the major, "and has practically admitted that he cannot trace him. It is believed that he has not left the village, and is—in short—in hiding. Let's go and see him."

They found Inspector Hartley in the library. He was an elderly man with whiskers and a thin, precise manner. He was sitting in Mr. Charnworth's easy chair by the open window engaged in the perusal of a manuscript. He rose as they entered and made a slight bow.

"My name is Hadderley—Maj. Andrew Hadderley," said the soldier, "and this is Mr. Barnwood, our curate-in-charge."

"And what can I do for you?" said the inspector, politely.

"The fact is, we are most anxious for the—er—"

"Good name of the village," interrupted the curate.

"And other reasons," continued the major, with a hand raised in gentle rebuke, "to avoid any unnecessary scandal in this unfortunate affair. Have you found Mr. Charnworth?"

The detective shook his head.

"May I ask what crime he has committed?"

"Mr. Charnworth is accused of forgery and frauds extending over several years. He was a trustee for two maiden ladies, and they are left quite penniless. So far as I can gather he is absolutely insolvent, and has been so for years," said the inspector. He pulled open a drawer in the desk and held up a morphia syringe. "The keeper of his conscience," he said, dryly.

"I shall not feel easy until he is in jail," frowned the major. "My services are at your disposal."

"I shall be pleased to assist in so just a cause," added the curate, stoutly.

"I am much obliged to you both," said the detective with an ungainly bow. He stooped and picked up the manuscript from the chair where he had laid it. "I have been reading his last 'book,'" he continued. "It was completed, so far as I can ascertain, in the course of yesterday morning. Mr. Charnworth was a fine writer. He had beautiful thoughts."

"He robbed women," remarked the major, as if that settled Charnworth once and for all.

"He had no moral sense," continued the detective. "This book is the life story of a man who was greedy of the beautiful, who was decadent—in the best sense of the word—who was supremely selfish, but had a fine appreciation of what he enjoyed. Imagine a luxurious, non-normal Athenian re-incarnated in a sordid, property-respecting, money-grubbing society, and you have the plot of Mr. Charnworth's last contribution to literature. His hero—Le Strange, by name—suffers reverses, unimaginable miseries. Mr. Charnworth is felicitous in his descriptions of scenery. Take, for instance, this sketch of a garden: 'In it there grew all kinds of straight, aspiring things, ambitious to spread abroad. Amongst them he wandered soft-footed upon the old turf walks. Impatient hollyhocks hurrying through all their stems in glorious color enticed him on. More humble flowers stared up at him from the dull, red earth like the spirits of its hidden jewels, exhaled in fierce desire to greet the sun. And so at last he came to where the leaden Mercury top-tipped before the rose-bush garden-house.' Does this suggest a scene to you, gentlemen?"

"It's his own garden," said the major, eagerly. "Go to the window, and you will see the Mercury at the end of the central alley."

"Thank you. In the last chapter Le Strange passes through this garden and over the fields where the corn lay soaking in the sunlight. And so he reaches the foothills of the moor and wanders up a cleft. There is much fern and a stream. Does that recall a locality, Mr. Hadderley?"

"I should think he means the Erme Gap," said the major. He turned to the window as he spoke with an air of impatience. This pedantic, long-winded policeman was getting on his nerves.

"I am going to the Gap. Would you care to come with me, gentlemen?"

"Of course—" began the major.

"If I could be of any real use," hesitated the curate.

"Your presence would assist me very much," said the detective.

They agreed at once. The inspector bestowed the MSS. safely in his pocket, and they set off together.

It was close upon two miles to the Gap, and past midday when they arrived at the narrow gorge where the stream came tinkling down. It was a warm day, and they were glad enough when their leader halted and sat down upon a boulder by the water.

"Mr. Charnworth," said the inspector, "was much impressed by the moors. He constantly mentions them in the manuscript to which I have already had occasion to refer." He produced it from his pocket as he spoke, and again scanned its pages. "The earth is older now, colder at the heart, nearer to the fate of cold-hemmed things." Pardon me. The gusts dismally sweeping the distance. Ah, here we have it. "Masses of mist hung, shroud-like, over the lower ground. About him swept the moors, fold on fold, like a frozen ocean of parched ling and gray grasses. In a cleft of the hillside lay a tumbled heap of stone flanked by low gray walls, a witness to the futile ambition of some poor wretch who had thought to draw a living from that barren desolation. It seemed to him—'Do you know of such a ruin, gentlemen?'"

"Butwick's Folly it will be," said the major. "Butwick was an idiot who tried to reclaim a patch of moor. He killed himself, or so I've heard—for it was before my grandfather's time. The ruin is yonder on the slope of the hill."

They advanced, skirting the hogs until they came to where the stones of poor Butwick's cottage lay before them. From beside the ruins a thorn-bush sprang—a touch of green against the somber moor. The inspector climbed upon a heap of stones and stared about him.

"A very extraordinary personality," whispered the curate.

"He is an ass," responded the major. "We were fools to come."

The inspector had been studying his manuscript. Now he looked down upon them from his superior elevation.

"If I have given you a walk for nothing, gentlemen, you must accept my apologies," he said. "Maj. Hadderley, will you be so kind as to follow my directions? Let me see. Mr. Charnworth makes mention of the thorn-bush—yes—a very pretty simile. 'The misty slopes of griefs and tears.' I have no doubt that the book will be a success if published. The ghosts of such men as I should haunt these desolations. 'To the dead all are dead.' Excuse me, major, but was this Butwick accorded a Christian burial?"

"No; he took his own life."

"Then where was he buried?"

"I believe that it was somewhere about here."

"Ah, now I understand. Walk straight on, if you please, keeping that thorn-bush on your left. Thank you. One moment. 'The bare solitary stone'—yes—in the place where he had planted his few miserable flowers. There is, I fancy, the remnant of a garden beyond that wall—Butwick's garden."

"It might have been a garden," called back the major, after staring over the wall.

"Good Lord, what's that!" shouted the major. He clambered down the wall on the further side, and they could see his gray hat bobbing as he ran across the plot. His head disappeared for a moment and then rose into view again.

"It's Charnworth," he shouted; "he's dead—he's shot himself."

"You see, Maj. Hadderley," said the inspector, as they walked hucward, "I knew he had not left the village. In searching his room I came across his novel in manuscript. He mentioned to his housekeeper that he had completed it yesterday morning. I found that in many respects it closely resembled the story of his own life. In the last chapter Le Strange commits suicide. No names were mentioned, but I suspected that he had picked his scenery from his own locality. There was a chance that, expecting immediate arrest, he had—well, completed the reality by following the example of his hero. If so, had he chosen the place which he described in the book for his own tragedy? I trust that both you and Mr. Barnwood will forgive me, but I had to have a guide, and, as you very wisely said, it was as well to drag as few of the general public as possible into a scandal of this sort."

"Quite so, quite so," said the major, gloomily.

The lips of the curate moved as he walked with bent head over the moor, but he made no audible reply to Inspector Hartley.

WAY OF MODERN

Beauty of Perugia's Famous Oratory to Be Marred by a New Building.

Rome.—Lovers of Italy's art treasures will be sorry to learn that it is intended to build a modern house in the small picturesque square leading to the celebrated Oratory of Saint Bernardino of Siena in Perugia, and that it will hide in part the view of its beautiful facade. This oratory was built in 1450 by the magistrates of Perugia, who were anxious to leave to their native city some enduring mark of the man whose influence in a time of extreme moral depravity and constant party strife had been purely one of good to the citizens of Perugia. The life of St. Bernardino of Siena is familiar to most people. Like St.

Facade of Saint Bernardino's Oratory at Perugia.

Francis he exercised an extraordinary power over the minds of men in the Middle Ages by the mere example of pure living and beauty of character, but perhaps his power lay a little more in preaching and in stirring men to action than that of the saint of Assisi, whose influence was essentially peaceful. His whole life was a struggle for light in a very dark age. He was full of unselfishness and charity, and it is said that he started the first Monte di Pietà or pawnshop, which still exists at Perugia.

The facade of the oratory is the work of a Florentine sculptor, Agostino Ducci, and is an interesting work of art. It is built of the pink colored marble of the country, decorated with terra cotta figures and white marble garlands.

The saint is represented in the center, holding a square tablet with the initials of Christ, surrounded by angels playing different instruments. His miracles are represented in plaques underneath, while his virtues are shown by means of six figures, which stand for Humility, Mercy, Purity, Religion, Patience and Holiness.

The facade is elaborately decorated, and it is considered a masterpiece of singular beauty. It is not clear why this particular spot was chosen on which to build the oratory, but probably the reason was its close proximity to the convent of St. Francis of Prato, where the saint lived while at Perugia.

There is something touching in the associations of the Oratory of St. Bernardino, and the thought of marling its beauty in any way seems nothing short of desecration. But the spirit of the present day is distinctly material. A well paying hotel is considered far better than the unobstructed view of a celebrated facade, and the cult of preserving the surroundings of works of art seems gradually disappearing in Italy.

British Ambassador, Reaching Age Limit, May Not Return.

London.—The report that Bryce, the British ambassador in Washington, is coming home shortly to confer with the cabinet on the far east ern racial question, which affects Canada as well as the United States, raises the presumption that he is coming home for good.

AMBASSADOR BRYCE.

Bryce will be 70 May 10. This compulsory age retirement from the diplomatic service was insisted on by the government in the cases of two eminent British diplomatists, much more accomplished and experienced than Bryce, namely, the late Marquis of Dufferin and Edmund Monson, who were each obliged to retire from the Paris embassy and the British diplomatic service on reaching the age limit.

It is scarcely conceivable that a rule which was applied so rigorously against such men as these will be relaxed in favor of Bryce, who was in his sixty-ninth year when he was appointed to the diplomatic service.

Many a Kentucky Citizen Knows, Now Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Kentucky. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical sufferer. Read the following statement:

Mrs. L. Varall, living at 923 Fifth St., Louisville, Ky., says "I am happy to say that Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and to other members of my family. I frequently had attacks of backache and kidney troubles before using your remedy but after using two boxes of the pills the troubles were entirely cured. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many of my friends for I attribute my present good health to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They certainly do all that is claimed for them."

LOOKING BACKWARD

News in The Bee
17 Years Ago Today

A mistake occurred in the Looking Backward date in last week's issue. The locals given were taken from the file of 17 years ago and the whistle posts from the 18 year file.

Personals.

Mrs. Kate McLeod is in Louisville buying millinery stock.

Frank Cawley is in Evansville, Henderson and elsewhere this week.

Miss Maggie Bull, of Evansville, spent yesterday with Mrs. Field.

Mrs. Robert Govey, of Nortonville, visited Mrs. Whalen and family last week.

Miss Beattie Withers filled her regular engagement here yesterday. Miss Withers has several music pupils in the city claiming her presence here two days every week.

Born, on the 2nd inst a girl. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wyatt the happy couple.

Society Event.

The society beaux and belles of the future, the little folks, gave a party and dance at McLeod & Dulin's hall Tuesday evening.

The attendance was quite large. Mesdames Isaac Davis, G. C. Atkinson and P. B. Davis chaperoned the young ladies. Those present partaking of the joyous festivities were: Misses Mertie McCarley, Susan Atkinson, Maggie Webb, Lizzie Browning, Ninon Umstead, Ethel Evans, Alice Bourland and Polly Davis, Messrs. George Moore, of Henderson, Frank McGary, Will Bourland, George Robinson, Willie Brashen, Smith Dulin, Claude Baker, Virgil Terry, Henry Browning and Everett Evans. Crabtree's entire band furnished the music for this joyous occasion.

Mining News.

David Cansler made a flying trip to Evansville Sunday.

Col. Lee Stull will retire from the mining business, having lately disposed of his mining property to J. L. M. Robinson, of this place.

Professor Campbell has been quite busy this week making an analysis of the different coal of this county. Col. Bob Wood has been his able assistant.

Whistle Posts.

Operator Kincaid now manipulates the key as night operator.

Operator Neal is now doing day work as operator and bill clerk.

Engineer G. W. Perkins has returned from a trip East much improved in health.

Foreman McVey and force of men have just completed some repairs on section house here.

Young Harry Ogden, of Slaughter'sville, is now classed among our operators and is no doubt the youngest one at work on this division.

Mr. Frank Bramwell, who lately took unto himself a wife, is now making a tour through several of the Northern States and will no doubt visit the World's Fair site before returning home.

THAW TAKEN TO ASYLUM

JURY DECIDES HE WAS MENTALLY IRRESPONSIBLE WHEN HE KILLED WHITE.

SMILES ON HEARING VERDICT

Mother Joins Son in Demand That He Be Given His Freedom at Once—Bows His Thanks to the Jurors.

New York, Feb. 3.—Adjudget not guilty of the murder of Stanford White by reason of insanity at the time the fatal shots were fired, Harry Kendall Thaw was held by the court to be a dangerous lunatic and was whirled away to the state hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan. It was a quick transition from the dingy little cell in the Tombs, which had been the young man's home for more than eighteen months, to the white-bedded wards of the big asylum, tucked away on the snow-covered sloping banks of the Hudson river, 50 miles above the city. The verdict came after 25 hours of waiting, and when everyone connected with the case had abandoned all hope of an agreement ever being reached in this or any other trial.

Protests He is Sane.

Four hours after the foreman's lips had framed the words, "not guilty," with the accompanying insanity clause, Thaw, protesting he was sane, was on his way to Matteawan. A little after nightfall he had been received in the institution under commitment papers, which directed his detention "until discharged by due course of law."

No more unwilling patient ever made a journey to a state institution. Thaw's train on its way to Fishkill Landing, where a carriage was taken to Matteawan, passed beneath the very walls of grim Sing-Sing, but at no time since his arrest on the night of June 25, 1906, had the young Pittsburgh millionaire ever held the thought that he would see the inside of that famous prison, and he heeded it not.

Bows His Thanks to Jurors.

The first thrill of the words of acquittal brought Thaw to his feet in the courtroom, and with that lack of grace of action which always has characterized his movements, he awkwardly, almost haughtily, bowed his acknowledgments to the twelve jurymen as they were discharged by the court. A smile played about his pallid features and there was every reason to believe that he was entirely pleased with the outcome.

It was after he had heard the words of Justice Dowling, committing him to Matteawan on the ground that his release, in the opinion of the court, would endanger the public safety, and after the elation of the verdict had died away, that Thaw rebelled. He commanded his attorneys immediately to seek a writ of habeas corpus to have his sanity tested, before he was sent away to the upstate institution where the lunacy of criminal tendencies were confined.

Mrs. William Thaw, from her hotel, where she had received over the telephone the news of the trial's end, joined in the demand of her son.

Martin W. Littleton, whose conduct of the case as chief counsel for the defense has won so much favorable comment, finally prevailed against the wishes of the mother, indicating that he believed it would be better for the present to obey the mandate of the court.

Pleads Not Guilty of Embarrassment San Francisco, Feb. 4.—James Treadwell pleaded not guilty in Judge Duane's court yesterday morning to two indictments for embarrassment in connection with the looting of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Co. Both cases were continued until Feb. 12 to be set. The case against Porter Ashe and Luther Brown for the kidnapping of Fremont Older, managing editor of the Bulletin, was set for trial on Feb. 17.

PROBING INCENDIARIES.

Alleged Plot to Secure Insurance Money and Then Decamp.

Cincinnati, Feb. 4.—As the result of an investigation of an alleged plot among certain insurance men and traveling merchants to start incendiary fires in stores opened for that purpose, secure the insurance and money and then decamp, two warrants were sworn out Monday by the state fire marshals for the arrest of Louis Levinson and Harry Kohn on a charge of arson. It is charged that the conspiracy had been going on for about two weeks.

One of the men questioned was A. K. Murray, who committed suicide yesterday in the Commercial Tribune building here by cutting his throat with a razor. He was closely questioned as to his knowledge of certain fires of recent date, and the collection of alleged fraudulent written insurance. He was never actually placed under arrest, but appeared to be greatly worried over the matter. The news of his suicide came just before the arrest of Kohn and Levinson.

The extent of the alleged conspiracy is as yet not fully known, but it is said that more arrests will follow.

RUEF ISSUES STATEMENT.

Denounces District Attorney's Assurances as Untrue.

San Francisco, Jan. 31.—Abraham Ruef, in open court Thursday, denounced as untrue the statement of District Attorney Langdon that he had been in communication with the other defendants in the United Railroad case, and last night issued a statement in which he repeated his denial of his alleged double dealing; charged the prosecution with violating its solemn word of honor and the written pledges; accused the district attorney of trying to force him into absolute compliance with certain demands by securing his conviction and then under promise of leniency, compel him to testify; reiterated that he had kept faith and asserted that he was now and always had been willing to testify to the truth, as he had done before the grand jury.

Hughes Against Race Track Gambling. New York, Feb. 3.—Gov. Charles H. Hughes made a trenchant plea for the abolition of race track gambling in a speech delivered Sunday at the Majestic theater in Brooklyn at a mass meeting of the "citizens' anti-race track gambling campaign." The governor declared that the question of race track gambling was not a matter for the churches or for any particular sect of social reformers, but whether the construction of the state of New York shall be enforced. He said that much had been heard about improving the breed of horses, which he was in favor of, but that he was also in favor of improving the breed of men.

Jap Sealers Warned.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 4.—Advises were received by the Empress of India that, in view of the raiding of foreign territory last year by Japanese sealers, official notification has been issued to the sealers about to leave Japan "to be careful not to trespass in foreign waters." The Japanese communications department decided to install wireless telegraphy on the six steamers of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha running to Seattle.

State Officer Indicted.

Salem, Mass., Feb. 1.—John N. Cole of Andover, speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives, was indicted on 182 counts by the Essex county grand jury Friday on charges that he illegally secured reduced railroad fares for school children.

Ruef Pleads Not Guilty.

San Francisco, Feb. 1.—Abraham Ruef was called upon to plead in Judge Duane's court Friday to the 14 indictments charging him with offering a bribe in connection with the Parkside trolley franchise. Ruef pleaded not guilty to the charges.

THEATRICAL

"The Mayor of Laughland."

There seems to be quite a controversy among the coal region towns of Central Pennsylvania, as to just which one can claim the honor of the birth of Tom Waters, whom Messrs. Nixon and Zimmerman have at the head of their "The Mayor of Laughland" Comville, Matanoy City. Ashland and several others claim Tom as their townsman, and to decide the bet, have written to the diplomatic Tom to get his verdict, and, strange to say, for the first time in his life, the versatile Mayor of Laughland is stalled. Although, if you heard his brogue, as assumed in the title role of the Nixon & Zimmerman piece, you would have a hard time being argued out of the belief that he was fresh from the mud sod.

"The Lyman Twins."

In a big musical production, one of the most enjoyable performances of the Lyman Twin Brothers, the famous twin comedians and a large company in their new elaborate musical comedy "The Yankee Drummers."

This superb production far surpasses all others in which these clever young comedians have yet appeared, being supported by some of the cleverest comedy entertainers today before the public. The production is a revelation in beautiful scenery, pretty costumes, a dainty chorus, sweet simple music, clever dancing and a wonderful display of electrical effects. This is said to be one of the finest musical comedy productions today before the public. At Temple Theater Saturday night, Feb. 8.

"Miss Bob White."

Charles H. Brown the well known and popular agent of "Miss Bob White," company, who was in town last week ahead of Willard Spensers dainty, comedy opera, is a theatrical advance man of the old school, with a sharp face and curly, iron gray hair, he does not look unlike Edwin Booth or one of the great masters, and to top the genuinely "theatrical" appearance he invariably wears a silk hat of the latest style; in fact, so closely is the nobby attire identified with Brown that he has earned the title of "Deacon" with those who know him sufficiently well. The Deacon, as we call him, tells a very funny yarn of his trip South. He was standing in the B. & O. depot in Philadelphia waiting for a belated train when he was attracted by the actions of a Salvation Army lass, or female Gospelite. He listened with much interest to the young woman's remarkable flow of intelligence and at the fall of the hat, or rather the pass of the coin collector, he took some change from his pocket and was about to deposit a dime when the middle-of-the-road disciple looked at him in astonishment and said: "Are you a gambler or a preacher?" "If the first I do not want your money," Brown was knocked out for a moment and then said: "Well, young woman, you have missed your guess; I'm an actor." She took the dime. Brown avers that she likewise took the cake.

Home Talent Play.

Notwithstanding Tuesday night was one of the most inclement of the season a good sized audience greeted the home talent play, "A Woman's Honor," at Temple Theatre. While the play was rather difficult for amateurs to attempt, it was very well staged and kindly received by the charitable ones. Knockers are to be found in any sized audience, who take pleasure in knocking, and this one was no exception.

The characters were well costumed and while all deserve credit several were well suited to their parts and did exceptionally good acting. Among those were Ebenezer, Gregory Grimes and Sally who took the humorous parts that always pleases an audience. The other characters were serious and true to some natures. Olive Glenn and Dr. Gilbert Hall, the leading characters, played their parts well as did Gen. Mark Lester. Pedro and Maria were among the best. Robert Glenn and Dr. Garcia well suited their parts.

Mrs. Robert Fenwick, Jr., furnishes the music on the piano between acts and for the song specialties.

Alonicois Morgau did some good char-coal drawing showing a decidedly fine talent for work of this character.

A rare treat is in store for Earlington lovers of amusement and good music. A choice male quartette is always popular and the Otterbein Male Quartette and Bell Ringers is an exceptionally good entertainment of this class. The Otterbeins will appear at Temple Theatre the night of Tuesday Feb. 26th. Wait for it.

Tobacco Crop Burned.

Clarksville, Tenn., Feb. 3.—Fire was applied to a tobacco barn containing 1,000 pounds of tobacco belonging to Jake Bagwell last night. It was totally destroyed. Bagwell, who lived near Oak Plains, was not an association member.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain in the head, pain in the blood—nothing else usually. At least so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful, steady, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation. If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. It's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure. Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's only common sense. We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend
